INFANT BABY KNOCKED FROM MOTHER'S ARMS

4-Month-Old Child Is Rendered Unconscious When Struck By Machine.

OTHER CRASHES ARE REPORTED

A four-month-old baby was knocked from its mother's arms, but escaped apparent injury when the woman was struck by an automobile in center square at 9:15 o'clock, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Dominick Pondo, West Middle street, mother of the infant, was knocked down by a machine, driven by Dale Crum, Bendersville, but escaped with a badly bruised left ankle.

Mrs. Pondo, accompanied by her husband, a student at Gettysburg college, and their son, Michael, was returning to Gettysburg from Mr. Pondo's home at Newark, New Jersey, Sunday evening. The three had just alighted from a bus in front of the Hotel Gettysburg and were walking toward the center square grass plot when Crum's car hit Mrs. Pondo.

Did Not See Woman
Crum was accompanied by two girls and another man. The windows of his car were steamed, and he told Officer Paul B. Shearer he did not see Mrs. Pondo until he was almost on top of her. Crum was traveling about 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred, Officer Shearer said.

Little Michael was rendered unconscious for a short time after the accident, but later regained consciousness and except for some restlessness spent a fairly comfortable night.

Mrs. Pondo was taken to the Warner hospital for an X-ray picture this morning. The picture revealed that no bones were broken.

Officer Shearer said no charges would be laid against Crum, adding that the occurrence was accidental.

Mrs. Pondo, before her marriage, was Miss Catherine Spangler.

Two other persons, also from York, whose names were not learned, also were injured in the crash, details of which could not be learned by Corporal C. W. Achenbach, of the state highway motor patrol, who investigated.

Mrs. Myers was taken to the Warner hospital where the laceration was dressed.

Chambersburg, Jan. 6 (AP).—W. H. Shultz, 39, of East Liverpool, Ohio, ended a long drive as the involuntary chauffeur for three Philadelphia youths here early today when his captors were arrested and held on charges of highway robbery. The young men, Peter Capone, Joseph Cacciadue and Jake Abuzio, were said by local police to have confessed holding up Shultz. Examination of the gun which Shultz said he showed them to be empty. Shultz managed to escape from his predicament through a lucky break in traffic as he drove into this place. A motorcycle policeman rode abreast the car as it was delayed by traffic lights and Shultz took advantage of the opportunity to cry "Help, I'm being held up."

The motorcycle policeman covered the occupants of the car with his revolver and forced them to drive to police headquarters where Shultz related his story.

Capone, according to police, admitted the truth of Shultz's story explaining that he and his companions had stolen a truck in Philadelphia last Friday and had driven to Ohio. They had no other means they said to get back home.

NEW COUNTY OFFICIALS IN OFFICE TODAY

R. Blaine Kitzmiller And William Deatrick Are New Offi- cers To Take Oath.

OTHERS SWORN INTO SERVICE

Two new Adams county officials, elected last November, and two former office-holders, re-elected at the same time, assumed their duties today.

At noon today, R. Blaine Kitzmiller, West Middle street, was inducted as county treasurer, succeeding S. G. Spangler, York street, who served a year's appointment.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Kitzmiller took the oath of office and afterward his bond was approved by Judge D. P. McPherson. The oath was administered by Prothonotary S. L. Allison.

At 12 o'clock Mr. Spangler turned over the reins of office to his successor who was then presented with a basket of roses and snapdragons by Mrs. Gervus W. Myers on behalf of the Women's and Men's Republican clubs of Adams county.

Is Congratulated

The new treasurer was congratulated by a number of Republican men and women workers after the presentation. Among those present were Mrs. H. H. Thomas, Mrs. J. E. Snyder, Mrs. Samuel Weiser, Leo Bushman, county game warden; George Raffenberger, field agent for the bureau of animal industry, and J. Price Oyler.

After his induction, Mr. Kitzmiller stated that Donald L. Hammers, who has served five years as deputy treasurer, would continue in that position for three months until the new official familiarizes himself with the duties. Afterward, he will conduct the duties of the office himself.

William M. Deatrick, newly-elected member of the board of directors of the poor, took office when that board re-organized this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the county home. He received the oath of office from W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts.

C. E. Lauver was elected president of the poor board, succeeding John A. Stambaugh. Deatrick is the third member.

Aides Are Elected

After the board re-organized, it elected the following:

Attorney C. E. Stahl, counsel and welfare and out-door relief officer; Dr. E. A. Miller, physician; A. P. Myers, clerk; George Patterson, steward at the county home; Mrs. Patterson, matron; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wagner, insane building; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loeck, old men's building; Calvin Crook, first farmer; Roy Martin, second farmer; Mrs. Crook and Mrs. Martin, old women's building; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, night nurses.

The board retained the first Tuesday of each month as its meeting time.

Inasmuch as no action to prevent William P. Stover and S. H. Crum, jury commissioners, from taking their oath of office, was forthcoming today, they were sworn in by Prothonotary Allison. Both have previously served as jury commissioners, and their re-election last November was shown to have been illegal under an act of 1867 which provides that a jury commissioner shall not be eligible for re-election within six years of his previous election.

11-Year Old Boy, Struck by Auto, Fatally Injured

Floyd Hull, Of Zora, Dies At Local Hospital This Morning Following Operation In At- tempt To Save His Life; Struck While Walking On Road Sunday Night.

WAYNESBORO BUSINESSMAN SAYS HE WAS BLINDED BY AUTO LIGHTS

Struck by an automobile while walking with his mother and several other persons at the edge of the highway at Zora, Sunday evening, Floyd Hull, 11, son of Mrs. Lillian Hull, of Zora, was fatally injured. He died at the Warner hospital at 5:15 o'clock this morning of a fractured skull and shock.

The boy's tragic death is the second death by violence in the Hull family in less than two years, his father, William Hull, having been killed by a premature discharge of a dynamite blast while working at the grit mill at Greenstone on March 12, 1928.

Floyd, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Lillian Hull, two sisters, the Misses Helen and Catherine Hull, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wetzel, of Zora, was returning home from the Wetzel residence when he was struck by a car, driven by C. W. Davis, young Waynesboro businessman, who was on his way to Baltimore.

After the accident, Mrs. Hull told Corporal C. W. Achenbach, of the local highway motor patrol substation, that Floyd was off the macadam part of the Waynesboro-Emmitsburg road when struck.

Hit By Door Handle

A door handle on the side of Davis' machine struck the back of the youth's skull, and hurled him between 15 and 20 feet forward.

Davis, who said he was traveling at moderate speed, stopped and took the injured lad to the office of Dr. H. P. Freeman, Emmitsburg. Dr. Freeman advised that the injured boy be taken to the Warner hospital for an operation.

Davis told Corporal Achenbach that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and did not see the pedestrians until too late to avoid an accident.

Davis said he swerved his machine slightly to the right while passing the oncoming car. It is believed that it was when Davis swerved his car that he struck the Hull boy. The accident occurred about 5:45 o'clock, Sunday evening.

Tried To Save Boy

Wetzel also said that Floyd was off the hard surface of the highway when hit. "The boy was walking almost in front of me," Wetzel said, "and I grabbed his coat in an effort to save him."

After the boy was admitted to the hospital, an operation was performed and a section of the skull bone was removed from an area where it was pressing on the brain.

With Davis were his wife and three residents of Baltimore.

Davis accompanied the victim and Dr. Freeman to the hospital and remained there until after the operation. The boy's mother, Mr. Wetzel and several other residents of Zora also were at the hospital.

Davis was allowed to proceed, but was instructed to appear, if called, at an inquest to be held later by Dr. E. A. Miller, Adams county coroner.

The lad is survived by his mother and the following brothers and sisters:

Mrs. George Baker, Baltimore; Mrs. Amos Wetzel, Zora, and Clarence, Lawrence, Brook, Russell, Catherine and Helen, all at home.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. Interment will be at St. Jacob's Reformed church cemetery, near Fountaindale.

JUSTICE TAFT SERIOUSLY ILL
Former President Compelled To Abandon Court Work And Leave For A Rest.

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP).—Chief Justice Taft has been forced by a weakened physical condition to end abruptly his court work and go away for a rest.

The chief justice, who is 72 years old, is in a highly nervous condition caused by a recurrence of bladder trouble which he suffered about six years ago and which then yielded to treatment.

His condition has caused worry within the inner court circles for some time.

Last summer, while in a weakened physical condition, the chief justice went to Cincinnati to visit his brother, Charles P. Taft, and overtaxed himself.

Mr. Taft recovered sufficiently to go to his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, but before returning to Washington last fall suffered an accident which irritated his general nervous condition.

He was able, however, to attend the conference of circuit court judges and to attend all sessions of the court up to the recess in December.

Recently the death of Charles P. Taft further complicated his nervous condition. He went to Cincinnati to attend the funeral against the advice of his associates on the bench.

Coolidge and Smith Select Beneficiaries of $6,000,000

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Former President Coolidge, former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, the committee of three prominent citizens chosen by executors under the will of Conrad Hubert, Sunday announced the names of thirty-three institutions selected by them to receive approximately $6,000,000.

Mr. Hubert, inventor of the pocket flashlight and other electrical devices, died February 14, 1928, at Cannes, France. He directed in his will that three outstanding Americans—a Catholic, a protestant and a Jew—be appointed to determine the institution to which three-quarters of his fortune should be distributed.

Divided Into Three Groups
For this purpose the fund was divided into three classifications, funds on hand, totaling $4,600,000, will go to fifteen institutions. In the second group eight institutions will receive the first million dollars of the residuary estate and in the third group ten institutions will receive bequests from the remaining funds.

The committee held its final meeting Friday in the offices of the Bankers Trust Company, which, with C. Bertram Plante, president of Mr. Hubert's Bond Electric Corporation of Jersey City, is executor and trustee of the estate.

LOCAL CHURCH
build my church?" the speaker said. "I see a panorama of churches from the time of Solomon's temple, a cathedral in Holland, completed after 1,000 years, a cathedral in New York city costing 15 million dollars, little chapels, meeting houses and evangelistic tents; army huts in the training camps and chaplains' dugouts in France. What kind of church would Jesus build?"

"In America there are more than 200 denominations of Protestant churches, including 17 varieties of Methodists. What church would Jesus join if he moved into an American community today? He prayed that they might all be one. Sectarianism is crucifying the church.

Unfinished Mission
"The church of Jesus must be progressive. It is still being built and rebuilt, new every century. It will not be finished until its mission is accomplished. A perfect church would mean a perfect world. It must keep on building until earth becomes heaven. It is a building without a roof; roofed over by heaven and we must rear its walls through all time into eternity.

"Ye are the temples of God and the spirit of God dwelleth in you. Jesus is more concerned about one heart, one immortal soul than he is about this church, as beautiful as you have made it. We dedicate real estate, but Jesus wants us to consecrate ourselves, our souls, our lives."

After congratulating the congregation on the "miracle of transformation" accomplished in the modeling, the speaker concluded by saying:

"Now let us labor as zealously to make these old hearts of ours new dwelling places for His Holy Spirit and dedicate ourselves anew to His service and this service of dedication will be complete."

Party Put to Rout by Indians After Locating Hidden Gold
Ogden, Utah, Jan. 6 (AP).—A story of a search for hidden gold in Mexico, a forced flight after getting possession of part of the treasure, and an attack by Indians in the wilds of the southern republic was told to the Standard-Examiner here Saturday night by Ernie Longbrake, Ogden aviator, who has returned to his home here.

Longbrake and Al Jennings, former outlaw, had maps showing the location of a mine in Mexico where gold bars were hidden and a shaft dynamited during the Villa revolt. A Chicago man provided capital for an expedition in search of the treasure, Longbrake said, and a cabin plane was rented in Ogden.

Permits to search and also to carry arms were obtained from the Mexican government, Longbrake related, through Ambassador Morrow. The party, he said, flew to Parral and then traveled by motor car.

After covering several miles of barren country, Longbrake is quoted as saying, the party reached the mine, blasted the opening and had possession of a seventy-pound bar of gold when Yaqui Indians discovered them, opened fire and the adventurers were forced to flee.

Car Destroyed By Indians
The car finally was abandoned and was destroyed by the Indians, the aviator said, but members of the party succeeded in reaching their plane at Parral and flew back over the border. Longbrake named the following as members of the expedition: Tim O'Connor, Chicago, backer of the trip; Al Jennings, of Los Angeles, who had the maps; George Miller, interpreter, of Los Angeles; Longbrake and Jimmy Angell, pilots, and Ted Padgett, Ogden, mechanic.

Parrral and then traveled by motor car.

Car Destroyed By Indians
The car finally was abandoned and was destroyed by the Indians, the aviator said, but members of the party succeeded in reaching their plane at Parral and flew back over the border. Longbrake named the following as members of the expedition: Tim O'Connor, Chicago, backer of the trip; Al Jennings, of Los Angeles, who had the maps; George Miller, interpreter, of Los Angeles; Longbrake and Jimmy Angell, pilots, and Ted Padgett, Ogden, mechanic.

Trattner's car was forced off the road by an automobile that was traveling west, and hit a pole. George Norbeck, 133 East Princess street, received a fracture of the right arm. He was taken to the West Chester hospital, where he received emergency treatment. He was brought to his home Friday evening and was admitted as a patient in York hospital. Owen, by Detective Ralph W. Keech, Friday. The prosecutor is Daniel Densel, 467 Chester place. On December 12, Mr. Densel, who is 67 years old, was coasting on Philadelphia street, and was struck by a car driven by Lippy. The man is still suffering from injuries sustained from the accident.

BOY WAS LOCKED IN SCENIC THEATRE
York—Richard Johnson, Park alley, was locked in the Scenic theatre Friday night, and at an early Saturday morning made "whoopie" to get out. He attracted the attention of two men at 1 o'clock, who reported the case to police headquarters. Sergeant W. C. Craver, got in touch with Martin Miller, the manager of the house, who liberated the youngster. The boy had fallen asleep watching one of the western thrillers and when they closed the doors Friday night he was left on the inside.

WEDDED 40 YEARS; NOW ASKS DIVORCE
Hagerstown—Forty years after his marriage, Samuel S. Weber Friday filed suit for divorce from his wife, Annie S. Weber, on the grounds of desertion. The couple, according to the bill of complaint filed through Miss Grace Gerber, attorney, were married on January 1, 1890.

Alma E. Powell, through Miss Gerber, filed suit for divorce from her husband, Harry R. Powell.

OFFICERS SEIZE LIQUOR IN RAID
Hagerstown—Raiding the Delmonico restaurant in Williamsport late Friday night, Federal Prohibition Agent Robert Beall and Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Cushman seized a quantity of alleged liquor labeled as bonded, 85 bottles of alleged homebrew, and summoned the proprietor, Earl J. Bentzel, to appear before Magistrate Richard Duffey Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The officers said they seized five pints of Golden Wedding whiskey, a bottle of cognac, five bottles of imported gin and the homebrew.

NO INQUEST INTO SPRENKLE DEATH
Waynesboro—Coroner Samuel D. Shull, of Franklin county, after viewing the body of Merle H. Sprengle, 38, of Roadsides, who was killed Wednesday evening when struck by a bicycle ridden by his son, Merle, Jr., 14, decided an inquest was not necessary, stating death was "accidental." He gave the cause of death as fractures of the third and fourth cervical vertebrae. The coroner came here Friday night.

The names of Walter Sprengle and William Blair, half brothers of the deceased, and Ira Blair, step father, were omitted by the family in giving details of Mr. Sprengle's life.

money which the family made was lost through reverses and Hubert, when he was 22, came to the United States.

Until he was 40 his business life was varied. He engaged successively in the retail cigar business, the operation of a restaurant, as boarding house keeper, as a farmer and retail milk dealer and then in the watch business. During all this time, he worked on various inventions and, in 1898, he perfected and patented the pocket flashlight.

Promoted Many Devices
The first flashlight company, the American Eveready company, was formed by Mr. Hubert and L. H. Keller. Mr. Hubert was president until it was sold to the National Carbon company some years ago. He and Mr. Keller then formed the Yale Electric corporation, which in 1928 changed its name to the Bond Electric company of Jersey City. At the time of his death Mr. Hubert was chairman of the board of the latter company.

Besides operating the flashlight, he developed and promoted the manufacture of the miniature incandescent lamp, a vacuum cleaner, a pocket cigar lighter, an electric vibrator and other devices.

New Beauty

FOR THE NEW FORD

THE NEW FORD COUPE

Flowing grace of line gives style and distinction to new, roomy Ford bodies. Now on display at dealers' showrooms

THE NEW FORD CARS, shown last Tuesday for the first time, have been enthusiastically received throughout the country. Everywhere it is realized that now, more than ever, the new Ford is a "value far above the price."

One of the distinguishing features of the new Ford bodies is the carefully planned harmony of every detail of design. From the new deep radiator to the tip of the curving rear fender there is an unbroken sweep of line—a flowing grace of contour heretofore thought possible only in an expensive automobile.

LOOKING at the new Ford you are impressed instantly by its smart style and compact, substantial sturdiness. For there is about it a certain character or personality which sets it apart and gives it a fresh and lasting beauty. You will take a real pride in this beauty just as you find a real thrill in the alert, capable performance of the car.

All of the new Ford bodies are finished in a variety of colors, with new striping and new streamline moulding. Interiors have more leg room. Closed cars have adjustable front seats. The smaller wheels, with larger tires, bring the car closer to the road, with a consequent gain in riding comfort and safety.

An additional feature of importance is the Rustless Steel used for the radiator shell, head lamps, hub caps, cowl finish strip and tail lamp.

This Rustless Steel will retain its bright, gleaming luster throughout the life of the car. It will not corrode, rust or tarnish in any kind of weather. Its brilliance is permanent. There is no plate to wear off, crack or scale, for it is the same bright metal all the way through.

The use of this Rustless Steel on the new Ford is a reflection of the enduring quality that has been built into every part of the car.

AT today's low prices the new Ford is unquestionably an outstanding value. Check it over feature by feature and you will see that it brings you everything you want or need in a modern automobile:—beauty of line and color . . . safety . . . comfort . . . speed . . . power . . . quick acceleration . . . ease of control . . . economy of operation . . . low up-keep cost . . . typical Ford reliability and long life.

TEEN YEARS AGO
Dry New Year a Gloomy Event.
"Broadway thundered with the pent up feeling of those who dined and drank within her dancing restaurants. Knowing that tonight would never come again the thousands forgot for the moment that it was the end of wine, and drank of it as they had never drunk before."
Thus reads a dispatch from the Manhattan metropolis.
What a bitter pill to swallow.
Back in little Gettysburg two dozen gun shots, a feeble shot, the lonely toot of a railroad engine, followed by the ringing of the college bell which echoed and re-echoed like a funeral toll in the ears of the thirsty ones and 1920 had made her formal entrance to Gettysburg.
Chambersburg street, the great white way of Gettysburg, was deserted. The bars of the Eagle, City, Gettysburg and Lincoln Way hotels, which once bore the proud distinction of being the scenes of local revelry, only gleamed in mockery through the glass windows to their former supporting friends who heaved deep sighs as they thought of the happy hours spent in those spots.
Print Shop Dismantled.—The Star and Sentinel printing plant for many years located on Center Square is being dismantled. A greater part of the equipment has been sold and is being shipped to the buyers.
The rooms occupied by the plant will be taken by William D. Gilbert who will establish a machine and plumbing shop.
George Baker Named as Clerk.—

George Baker, of Abbottstown, who has served as secretary of the Republican county committee for many years, was announced as clerk to Commissioners Lupp, Linn and Snyder. J. Donald Swope, Esq., of Gettysburg, was named by the commission board as their attorney. Dewey Wolf, Straban township, was elected sealer of weights and measures. Joseph Galbraith, of Gettysburg, will continue to act as janitor at the court house.
The board of auditors experienced no difficulty in their formation. M. E. Freed, Franklin township, was named president; H. B. Beard, Highland township, secretary, and J. L. Williams, Esq., Gettysburg, attorney; George M. Deatrick, Mount Joy township, is a third member of the board.
Leo Bushman, former county treasurer, will act as deputy for Roy Zinn, the new treasurer, for a short time. But Mr. Zinn stated that he will later conduct the duties of the office himself. W. D. Sheely, clerk of the courts, whose term has just expired, will assist J. R. Hartman, new incumbent of the office, for several weeks also while Charles W. Gardner will act in a similar capacity for Horace E.

TODAY'S TALK
By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS

PUTTING IN—AND TAKING OUT
I LIKE to think of life as a big receptacle into which we all put something. Naturally, if we put nothing into it, there will never come a time when we will be able to take anything out as our share of the accumulated profits.
The inventor puts into life his time, his strength, his years of research, his discouragements and failures—until on some day he is rewarded with a discovery that the world has never known anything about before.
And so in all other lines of activity. It is the same story. The man who saves, invests wisely, and keeps right on working inevitably becomes independent, and is able through this independence to be of great service to others.
But what is put into human character counts most of all. The honest, conscientious man, the unselfish, kindly, thoughtful man gets more out of life than anyone else, even though he may be worth comparatively little in money or material accumulation.
You only take out of life what you put into it! But nearly always you are given back much more than you put in—such is the rapidity of accumulation and growth where kindness, fine acts and love are the things that you give away.
The miser is well named. He is a miser-able man. He keeps everything and gives nothing. And so, always dies unhappy!
I know a boy who came into this world with about as poor a chance as anyone I have ever known. His parents were very poor and ignorant. His family was a large one. Each had to shift for himself. But this boy determined upon a definite course of action. He worked long and late at anything that he could find to do. He did his work well and never complained. He finished high school and then entered business as an office boy at a very small salary. He saved a little from his first earnings, a part he gave to his mother. Today that boy is an honored officer of the firm that first employed him. He owns his own home and has three fine children. Today he is taking out much from life because he put so much in.
One of my favorite mottoes is this: Be glad to give as much as you take!

SATISFACTION
If tomorrow shall not come
This is left to say:
All I could I've taken from Many a yesterday.
I have known the flowers of spring,
Summer skies of blue.
I have not delayed a thing
I had strength to do.
If tomorrow shall not be,
This is left to say:
Grateful I shall be,
Many a happy memory
I shall take away.
Brief or lengthy be my stay
Grateful I shall be,
Counting many a happy day
Granted unto me.

SUNDOWN STORIES
THE WHYS
By Mary Graham Bonner
"I'm going to take you to see some very queer little people this evening," said the Little Black Clock.
John and Peggy never knew what to expect. Certainly the Little Black Clock could take them anywhere and everywhere.
They kept trying to learn where they were going.
"You'll see," said the Little Black Clock. He seemed to be amused at the very thought of what he was planning to do.
So John and Peggy knew that it would amuse them too. The Little Black Clock always knew!
He took them back of their own house, and there was an express cart waiting to take them off. The creature pulling the express cart had the funniest kind of a shape. Instead of being straight up and down he curved around in such an odd fashion.
But he did not spend any time in talking. As soon as the Little Black Clock and the children were safe in the express cart, he rushed down the garden path, then over unfamiliar ground. Finally, he stopped at a place in the woods where there are many of his kind.
"What do you want to know?" they all shouted as they saw the chil-

Little Jack Rabbit
By David Cory
"Dear, dear!" sighed Little Jack Rabbit one morning, looking over the Sunny Meadow, white with snow. "So many of my friends in fur and feather have gone to the Sunny Southland and into winter burrows. Dear, oh dear," and he hopped slowly toward the Shady Forest, not so very shady now that the leaves had fallen from the tall treetops.
On and on he hopped and after a while, and a hip-hoperty mile, he came to a sign post, on which was printed in great red letters:
MOTHER GOOSE COUNTRY.
"Well, here goes into a new land," thought the little venturesome bunny, and on he hopped, clipperly clip, lipperty lip, with never a stumble and nary a slip, his knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and his red striped candy cane swinging from his left paw. By and by he came to a little house by the dren. "We have any number of answers here. Just see!"

"Here, Whys," cried the Little Black Clock, "tell John and Peggy about yourselves."
They gathered around the children. What funny objects the were! They looked very much like question marks.
"We're called the Whys because we're in the Why business," said one.
"What?" asked John.
"Well, that's almost the same as why," said another.
"Have you never heard of the Why business?" asked a third.
"Never," said John.
"Never," said Peggy.
"We'll talk business then," they said.

tens, you know
"I must thank you for a night's lodging," cried the little rabbit. "Indeed, when I first came in, I thought this little house deserted; no one came at my call."
"We were hunting for mice in the garret," answered the Three Little Kittens who once lost their mittens.
"One very bothersome young mouse keeps scampering all about our house. She makes unnecessary noise. And often nibbles at our toys," went on the Three Little Kittens in poetry. Gracious me! they certainly are poetical little cats and no mistake. And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED

It is a curious fact that the best-tasting cigarette is the one in which no single taste quality is too evident. Over-mildness, for example—or over-richness—shows lack of "balance" just as plainly as harshness or bitterness.

On this basis, test Chesterfield. Aroma, smoothness, satisfying goodness, flavor, mildness, all present—but none emphasized at the expense of others. The one goal is taste—better taste, balanced taste—

IN MEMORIAM

In sad, but loving remembrance of our dear father, Adam R. Bream, who departed this life three years ago today, January 6, 1927.

Thou hast left us, dearest father, Left us in this world of pain, And gone to dwell with Jesus Where saints and angels reign.

Dearest father, how we miss you, Since from earth you passed away, And our hearts are aching sorely As we think of you each day.

Off to the graveyard we wander, To place flowers with tender care Upon the grave of our dear father, Who is sweetly sleeping there.

The rolling stream of life rolls on And still the vacant chair Reminds the love, the voice, the smile Of one who once sat there.

But we hope the Lord will bless us And keep us from all sin, That some day we may meet you And forever reign with Him.

"HARDWARE on, the SQUARE"

NATEX PROVED A GODSEND TO THIS RUNDOWN FARMER

Soon relieved bad stomach, kidney and liver ailments for R. D. 10 citizen.

"Nutex has done so much for me that I am only too glad to recommend it to others who may be rundown", declares Mr. Waldemar Martens, well-known Route 10, Gettysburg, Pa., farmer, in a recent statement given to the Nutex
Health Expert at Murphy's Cut Rate Store.
"When I started on Nutex my stomach hurt me so much that I couldn't sleep at night and I was terribly nervous. I was a chronic sufferer from constipation, had bad dizzy spells and my kidneys were so weak that I was up three or four times a night to relieve them. I also suffered a great deal with backaches.
"Nutex didn't help me so quickly but it surely helped me a great deal in the end. Now I am completely free of the constipation and the pains in my stomach and back and I can sleep like a log every night without having to get up with my kidneys. The dizzy spells and headaches have also been relieved and I feel 100 per cent better in every way."
Just because you are not incapacitated from your business or pleasure, the warning of a rundown constitution should not go unheeded or serious results are sure to follow.
Give Nutex a chance to build up your system, strengthen your vital organs and enrich your blood. It will bring back the glow of health to pale cheeks and vigor and vitality to tired, worn-out bodies.
The Nutex Health Expert is at Murphy's Cut Rate Store meeting local people and explaining the merits of Nutex. See him today.
Samples and a valuable health booklet are free.

Charged with Laziness

Guiltily Simply of Acidity!

That persistent feeling of tiredness—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system. Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural eating habits, causes acid-indigestion with gas, sourness and burning and sets up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal that saps our strength and vitality, taxes our nerves and pulls us down physically and mentally.

Magnesia Oxoids, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, correct acidity in the right way! Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxoids generate nascent, or active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimu-lates the activities of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

5-Day Acid Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from People's Drug Store or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal for five days and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If you don't get more than amazing results, return the balance of the Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full.—Advt.
